

Why It Matters
The Unique Cornerstone of Our Faith
1 Corinthians 15:17-18

Group Discussion

As a group, determine the top 2 reasons why you are positive that Jesus Christ really got up and really walked out from the tomb alive.

Reason #1:

Reason #2:

Are your reasons subjective or objective?

Question 1: Is resurrection even possible?

Question 2: Why would a resurrection matter?

Question 3: Is it possible to prove there was a resurrection?

Narrowing the scope

A _____ is a dynamic specialized event that nature is incapable of producing...

...that temporarily supersedes or appears to supersede the normally observed known pattern of nature...

...and is brought about by the power of God or another supernatural agent...

...for the purpose of verifying or drawing attention to a person or message.

What question does this answer?

Why It Matters
The Unique Cornerstone of Our Faith
1 Corinthians 15:17-18

Group Discussion

As a group, determine the top 2 reasons why you are positive that Jesus Christ really got up and really walked out from the tomb alive.

Reason #1:

Reason #2:

Are your reasons subjective or objective?

Question 1: Is resurrection even possible?

Question 2: Why would a resurrection matter?

Question 3: Is it possible to prove there was a resurrection?

Narrowing the scope

A _____ is a dynamic specialized event that nature is incapable of producing...

...that temporarily supersedes or appears to supersede the normally observed known pattern of nature...

...and is brought about by the power of God or another supernatural agent...

...for the purpose of verifying or drawing attention to a person or message.

What question does this answer?

Philosophical Arguments for the Possibility of a Miracle

The _____ Argument (Kalam)

1. Everything that begins to exist has a cause.
2. The universe began to exist.
3. Therefore, the universe has a cause.

This cause must be timeless, spaceless, and powerful.

The _____ Argument

1. The universe exhibits intricate order and purposeful design.
2. Design implies the existence of an intelligent designer.
3. Therefore, the universe must have been designed by an intelligent being.

The _____ Argument

1. If objective moral values and duties exist, there must be a universal personal lawgiver.
2. Objective moral values and duties do exist.
3. God is the best explanation for a universal personal lawgiver.

These three arguments together provide the philosophical framework for confidence in the belief of an “external intelligent source” who is powerful enough to act miraculously and purposefully in human history.

Philosophical Arguments for the Possibility of a Miracle

The _____ Argument (Kalam)

4. Everything that begins to exist has a cause.
5. The universe began to exist.
6. Therefore, the universe has a cause.

This cause must be timeless, spaceless, and powerful.

The _____ Argument

4. The universe exhibits intricate order and purposeful design.
5. Design implies the existence of an intelligent designer.
6. Therefore, the universe must have been designed by an intelligent being.

The _____ Argument

4. If objective moral values and duties exist, there must be a universal personal lawgiver.
5. Objective moral values and duties do exist.
6. God is the best explanation for a universal personal lawgiver.

These three arguments together provide the philosophical framework for confidence in the belief of an “external intelligent source” who is powerful enough to act miraculously and purposefully in human history.